

Type species designation for Acinodrillia Kilburn, 1988

In May 1988 I proposed the new generic name Acinodrillia for three species in the subfamily Drilliinae, family Turridae. The line containing the designation of the type species was accidentally omitted while the manuscript was in press and this omission remained undetected until after publication. As the published description thus fails to satisfy article 13(b) of the ICZN rules, it becomes necessary to validate the genus as follows:

Acinodrillia gen. n.

Type species: Acinodrillia viscum Kilburn, 1988

Diagnosis: see Kilburn (1988: 223)
